

Scoring Rubric for AA440 Project presentation

Group members: _____

Objective	5 Exemplary	4 Very Good	3 Good	2 Fair	1 Poor	Score
Clarity of oral presentation	All information clearly spelled out, well enunciated and inspiring	Speakers convey information but delivery is a little dry.	Speakers convey information, but delivery is dry and uninspiring	Speakers shows little interest in conveying information to others	Speakers mumble.
Visual presentation	Slides clear and lettering large enough for the entire classroom.	Slide lettering is large enough for entire classroom, but some slides are unclear.	Slide lettering approaching acceptable size and some slides are unclear.	Slides are too busy or lettering too small	Poorly prepared slides are hard to read and hard to follow
Introduction of key non-conventional characteristic	Non-conventional characteristic is clearly illustrated and the effects on analysis clearly discussed	Non-conventional characteristic is clearly illustrated and the effects on analysis somewhat discussed	Non-conventional characteristic introduced and effects on analysis somewhat discussed	Non-conventional characteristic introduced but the effects on analysis not discussed	Non-conventional characteristic not introduced.
Correct approach in stability analysis	Fundamental approach used in analysis is correct with no errors	Fundamental approach used in analysis is correct with minor errors	Fundamental approach used in analysis is correct with a few major errors	Fundamental approach used in analysis is correct with many major errors	Fundamental approach used in analysis is incorrect
Use of teamwork in presentation	Team members transitions organized and seamless	Team members transitions fairly organized	Team member transitions somewhat disorganized	Some team members do not contribute	Only one team member contributes to oral presentation

(Note: a zero will be scored if not included)

Comments:

Evaluator: _____

Score: _____