

Rubric for Oral Communication in a Graduate Program

Levels of Achievement

Criteria	3 Sophisticated	2 Competent	1 Not Yet Competent
Organization	Presentation is clear, logical, and organized. Listener can follow line of reasoning.	Presentation is generally clear and well organized. A few minor points may be confusing.	Listener can follow presentation only with effort. Some arguments are not clear. Organization seems haphazard.
Style	Level of presentation is appropriate for the audience. Presentation is a planned conversation, paced for audience understanding. It is not a reading of a paper. Speaker is clearly comfortable in front of the group and can be heard by all.	Level of presentation is generally appropriate. Pacing is sometimes too fast or too slow. The presenter seems slightly uncomfortable at times, and the audience occasionally has trouble hearing him/her.	Aspects of presentation are too elementary or too sophisticated for audience. Presenter seems uncomfortable and can be heard only if listener is very attentive. Much of the information is read.
Use of communication Aids (e.g., Transparencies, Slides, Posters, Handouts, Computer-Generated Materials)	Communication aids enhance the presentation. They are prepared in a professional manner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Font on visuals is large enough to be seen by all. ▪ Information is organized to maximize audience understanding. ▪ Details are minimized so that main points stand out. 	Communication aids contribute to the quality of the presentation. Font size is appropriate for reading. Appropriate information is included. Some material is not supported by visual aids.	Communication aids are poorly prepared or used inappropriately. Font is too small to be easily seen. Too much information is included. Unimportant material is highlighted. Listeners may be confused.
Content
Depth of Content	Speaker provides accurate and complete explanation of key concepts and theories, drawing upon relevant literature. Applications of theory are included to illuminate issues. Listeners gain insight.	For the most part, explanations of concepts and theories are accurate and complete. Some helpful applications are included.	Explanations of concepts and/or theories are inaccurate or incomplete. Little attempt is made to tie theory to practice. Listeners gain little from presentation.
Accuracy of Content	Information (names, facts, etc.) included in the presentation is consistently accurate.	No significant errors are made. Listeners recognize any errors to be the result nervousness or oversight.	Enough errors are made to distract a knowledgeable listener, but some information is accurate. The presentation is useful if the listener can determine what information is reliable.
Use of Language
Grammar and Word Choice	Sentences are complete and grammatical, and they flow together easily. Words are chosen for their precise meaning.	For the most part, sentences are complete and grammatical, and they flow together easily. With a few exceptions, words are chosen for their precise meaning.	Listeners can follow the presentation, but they are distracted by some grammatical errors and use of slang. Some sentences are incomplete/halting, and/or vocabulary is somewhat limited or inappropriate.
Freedom from Bias (e.g., Sexism, Racism, Ageism, Heterosexism, etc.)	Both oral language and body language are free from bias.	Oral language and body language are free from bias with one or two minor exceptions.	Oral language and/or body language includes some identifiable bias. Some listeners will be offended.
Personal Appearance

Responsiveness to Audience
Verbal Interaction	Consistently clarifies, restates, and responds to questions. Summarizes when needed.	Generally responsive to audience comments, questions, and needs. Misses some opportunities for interaction.	Responds to questions inadequately.
Body Language	Body language reflects comfort interacting with audience.	Body language reflects some discomfort interacting with the audience.	Body language reveals a reluctance to interact with audience.

Rubric for Teamwork

Levels of Achievement

Criteria	4 Exemplary	2 Satisfactory	0 Unacceptable
Group Functioning
Attending	Most, if not all, members attend the meetings.	Most members are present at most meetings. When members have to be absent, they inform and/or seek the agreement of the team.	Many members frequently miss meetings and do not inform the team.
Participating	There is a clear definition of tasks to be accomplished, anticipating future needs. All members take an active role. Tasks are defined by the group and assigned to all members. The team engages in follow-up activities to monitor progress.	Tasks are defined informally, and most but not all members understand them. Most members contribute. Follow-up is sporadic.	Tasks are not defined, and few members participate actively. There is no follow-up.
Defining Members' Roles	Every member's role on the team is defined and understood by all. Each team member can explain the role of others.	Members' roles are defined informally and may not be completely understood by all. Some members may not be able to explain the role of others.	There is little understanding of who does what.
Making Collective Decisions	Clear procedures for making decisions are established and documented. Decisions, the process by which they were made, and the involvement of members are also documented.	Decision-making procedures are established informally, leading to inconsistency in implementation and a failure to involve all members in decision-making.	Because there is no decision-making process, decisions are made by individuals, and they do not reflect the thinking or the desires of the team.
Team Member Support	Every team member is treated with respect. All members listen to all ideas. The work of each person is acknowledged. Members feel free to seek assistance from others to ask questions.	There is a general atmosphere of respect for team members, but some members may not be heard as much as others. Acknowledging others' work is serendipitous rather than planned. Some members may not feel free to turn to others for help.	The team atmosphere is competitive and individualistic rather than cooperative and supportive.
